

BULLETIN

With the recent siting of a small black 4 door car approaching a child in Martensville the Dalmeny Police are asking that parents develop a system with their children such as a "code word".

Any person asked to pick up children should know this code word. if they do not the children should immediately leave the area and contact the police.

We will have three personnel living in Dalmeny who provide 24/7 coverage. Chief Mossop and Constable Rowe are in the process of building houses in Dalmeny.

Auxillary Constable Dave Janzen is a volunteer and rides with a regular member. He is a valued asset during special events and as a back up officer.

- Chief Ted Mossop
- Constable Scott Rowe
- Constable Christine Van Meter
- Aux/Constable Dave Janzen

Chief Mossop retired as a Sargent from the RCMP. At the time of his retirement he had 27 years of service. Chief Mossop has served part of his service overseas and brings a multitude of experience and knowledge to the Dalmeny Police. He began his career with Dalmeny as the Chief in the spring of 2006.

Constable Rowe graduated from the Saskatchewan Police College as a member of the Corman Park Police Service in 2000. He served 7 years with Corman Park before moving over to the Senior Constables position with Dalmeny. He is now in his second year with The Dalmeny Police Service.

Constable Van Meter is in her 3rd year with the Dalmeny Police Service. She graduated from the Saskatchewan Police College in 2004.

Dalmeny Police Service provides 24/7 policing for the town of Dalmeny and Bylaw and Provincial Statute enforcement for the town of Langham.
